

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

There is provided information processing apparatus/method featured by selecting the desired packets from input stream data containing plural 5 packets multiplexed on time-division basis, counting the number of packets other than the desired packets in the input stream data, and recording, on a recording medium, the data of the desired packets and the information data indicating the number of the counted 10 packets.